

Transforming Health Care

Take everything you thought about medicine, and then go beyond. We are. At Columbia St. Mary's, the transformation of health care is underway. We're partnering with leading national organizations including the Institute for Healthcare Improvement and the Center for Health Design to create one of the safest and most innovative health systems in the country.

The new hospital under construction is destined to become a model for health care nationwide and a community resource without equal. Through the new Columbia St. Mary's Hospital Milwaukee, and the new patient bed tower at Columbia St. Mary's Hospital Ozaukee, we're reinventing the patient experience, revolutionizing health care, and moving beyond medicine.

Columbia St. Mary's Quality Initiatives

Columbia St. Mary's was one of the first hospital systems to join the Institute for Healthcare Improvement's 100,000 Lives Saved Campaign.

Initiatives at Columbia St. Mary's include the use of Rapid Response Teams, preventing adverse drug events, preventing surgical site infections, preventing central line infections, preventing ventilator associated pneumonia and, delivering reliable acute myocardial infarction (heart attack) care. Regarding the latter, at a time when most U.S. hospitals fail to treat heart attack patients within 90 minutes, we've reduced our average door-to-balloon time to 77 minutes.

Columbia St. Mary's is proud to include data on its quality measures in the following consumer websites:
